Decolonization - Wikipedia
Decolonization (American and Oxford English) or decolonisation (other British English) is the undoing of colonialism, the latter being the process whereby a nation establishes and maintains its domination of foreign territories, often oversees territories. The concept particularly applies to the dismantlement, during the second half of the 20th century, of the colonial empires established

Genocide of indigenous peoples - Wikipedia
The genocide of indigenous peoples is the mass destruction of entire communities of indigenous peoples. Indigenous peoples are understood to be people whose historical and current territory has become occupied by colonial expansion, or the formation of a state by a dominant group such as a colonial power. While the concept of genocide was formulated by Raphael Lemkin in the mid ...

On Earth We're Briefly Gorgoeus by Ocean Vuong
On Earth We're Briefly Gorgeous is a letter from a son to a mother who cannot read. Written when the speaker, Little Dog, is in his late twenties, the letter unearths a family's history that began before he was born — a history whose epicenter is rooted in Vietnam — and serves as a doorway into parts of his life his mother has never known, all of it leading to an untold story.

Models of the Public Intellectual: Cinema and Engagement
Sep 20, 2017 - Sartre also had an abiding fondness for the cinema. In his article for this dossier, Dudley Andrew writes of Sartre's provocative act of defending the culturally disreputable practice of movie-going in a 1931 commencement address at the lyceé where he taught. 4 Three decades later, in the autobiographical musings of Words, he also dedicated a long passage to the thrill of ...
